THANK YOU

In April, Cycle for Survival is hosting its first ride of 2022, and I can't wait to get back on the bikes with our community. This is a great moment to reflect on last year and everything we accomplished together.

The 2021 season was one of firsts for Cycle of Survival. From the virtual Battle Summit to the event at MetLife Stadium, riders and donors continued to seek out new and meaningful ways to stay involved — all while navigating the global pandemic.

I have had the privilege of being part of Cycle for Survival since 2007, and what never ceases to amaze me is the dedication of this community. Your unwavering spirit has transformed Cycle for Survival from one ride in a New York City Equinox cycling studio into a global movement to beat rare cancers. This past year, you showed once again that anyone, anywhere has the power to make a real difference.

As we close in on $300 million raised for rare cancer research at MSK, I thank the countless individuals who have made this achievement possible. Whether you've been riding with us for one year or over a decade, you are building a better future for people with rare cancers, and that's something to be immensely proud of.

Throughout this book celebrating the 2021 season, many teams and individuals are highlighted, including Decade Riders, Million-Dollar Teams, $5K Teams, and donors from the $275 million milestone day. I hope you enjoy looking back and are inspired by the incredible progress we've made together.

On behalf of everyone on the Cycle for Survival team at MSK, thank you again for your support. We are all so grateful that you're part of this movement.

With endless gratitude,

Katie Klein
*Vice President, Development Programs
Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center*

In 2021, Cycle for Survival raised $25 million and surpassed a total of $285 million in fundraising since 2007, with 100% of every dollar going directly to lifesaving rare cancer research and clinical trials at MSK. More than 10,000 people participated in events last season, representing nearly all 50 U.S. states and 32 countries.

JENNIFER GOODMAN LINN

Jennifer Goodman Linn was the spark that ignited Cycle for Survival. Her motivation for starting Cycle for Survival was selfless. Her driving force wasn't her own diagnosis — she was determined to set a course for a future in which anyone with a rare cancer would have a cure.

Jen was the fiercest advocate for people with rare cancers, and in Cycle for Survival she created a community that unites and empowers countless patients, survivors, families, friends, caregivers, doctors, nurses, researchers, and supporters through hope and healing.

March 21, 2021 would have marked Jen's 50th birthday. To commemorate Jen's birthday, this community shared tribute messages to honor who or what inspired them to be part of this movement, and a special plaque in honor of Jen was created and will be installed in The Zuckerman Research Center at MSK.

2021 HIGHLIGHTS

The 2021 season was unique and unforgettable. Despite numerous challenges and changes, the Cycle for Survival community maintained a steadfast commitment to supporting one another and proved how unstoppable we are as the movement to beat rare cancers.

This milestone 15th year was marked by some amazing highlights: our inaugural virtual Battle Summit, the incredible series of Community Conversations, the outdoor rides at MetLife Stadium, and the Virtual Event Experience featuring classes on Equinox+.

Thank you to everyone who fundraised, donated, watched, or participated in an event.
We are so grateful for this extraordinary community.

VIRTUAL BATTLE SUMMIT AND COMMUNITY CONVERSATIONS

On December 1, 2020, we celebrated Giving Tuesday with our virtual Battle Summit, an annual celebration of progress in rare cancer research. It was the first time we hosted the event online, opening it to riders and donors everywhere. During the program, MSK doctors reported on key scientific findings supported by Cycle for Survival, and community members shared incredible stories of hope and perseverance.

Throughout 2021, we also hosted a series of online Community Conversations that brought together riders and team captains for engaging discussions. At a time when we couldn't meet in person, these virtual gatherings offered a genuine way to connect and share support with one another.

GAME CHANGER AWARD

The Game Changer Award is presented annually to members of our community in recognition of their efforts to support Cycle for Survival's continued growth, success, and impact. We were honored to present Mike and Kass Lazerow with the Game Changer Award during the virtual Battle Summit.

Mike and Kass are part of the foundation of Cycle for Survival. Both behind the scenes and in ways every one sees, they have helped shape the movement into what it is today and put their extraordinary mark on everything. As the founders of Buddy Media, the Lazerows were the first to start a corporate Cycle for Survival team. On top of that, they got their entire company involved and always made Cycle for Survival a part of the Buddy Media family.

Mike and Kass were instrumental in the launch and ongoing success of the Media and Tech Ride in New York City. Their team, Team Dream Big, has raised nearly $2 million for Cycle for Survival to date. They are visionaries, they are inspiring, and we are so grateful for their continued support and action on behalf of our efforts to beat rare cancers.

THANK YOU EQUINOX

Thank you to our founding partner, Equinox. Equinox's unwavering support has helped the events grow exponentially.

Its world-renowned cycling instructors lead each ride, and Equinox's leadership and staff dedicate significant time and resources to raise awareness and funds. We are so grateful for everything they continue to do to help beat rare cancers.

A close-up photograph of a person's hand holding a large, bright orange tassel. The tassel is made of many thin, fringed strands and is held against a dark, out-of-focus background. The lighting highlights the texture and color of the tassel.

“My instinct was to do something, to take action and not let cancer control my life or my future — to move forward treatment options for those who have none. Through Cycle for Survival, I could support the research of my amazing team of doctors. I love learning about their progress and hearing ‘you funded this!’ It’s a privilege to be able to help beat rare cancers.”

— Val W.

METLIFE STADIUM RIDE

On the first weekend of May 2021, Cycle for Survival traveled to MetLife Stadium in New Jersey for our inaugural socially distanced outdoor event.

More than 1,300 participants came out to ride over the weekend. Led by an extraordinary team of Equinox instructors, riders rallied together to fill the stadium with a level of energy and passion that only Cycle for Survival could bring.

VIRTUAL EVENT EXPERIENCE

Our first-ever Virtual Event Experience kicked off with a powerful Impact Celebration, hosted by longtime Cycle for Survival supporter Seth Meyers.

The celebration featured heartfelt stories, inspiring performances, and research updates from MSK. Plus, participants received eight hours of fitness classes through Equinox+ so they could experience the excitement of a Cycle for Survival event right from home.

JOIN THE BATTLE

$5K+ TEAMS

Thank you to the teams that raised more than $5,000 for Cycle for Survival during the 2021 season. Every dollar is fueling the work of MSK physicians and researchers in pursuit of new and better treatments for people with a rare cancer.

A close-up photograph of two hands clasped together in a supportive grip. The hands are positioned centrally, with the fingers interlaced. Both wrists are wearing white fabric wristbands. The wristband on the left clearly shows the year '2020' and the text 'CYCLE FOR SURVIVAL' in orange and black. The wristband on the right also has 'CYCLE FOR SURVIVAL' visible. The background is dark and out of focus, showing the blurred outlines of other people's heads and shoulders, suggesting a group event or rally.

“Jen always told me, ‘It’s not about the bike; it’s about the money we raise.’ And that has never been more true than this year.”

— Shari F.

$275M GIVING DAY

Cycle for Survival reached and surpassed an exciting milestone on April 15, 2021: $275 million raised since 2007. Thank you to these donors who gave that day to help achieve this monumental accomplishment. We are so grateful for their time, energy, and resources that ensure innovative rare cancer research and lifesaving clinical trials at MSK can continue.

LEADERS CIRCLE

Thank you to our Leaders Circle for being champions for Cycle for Survival. By providing multiyear pledges of $10,000 per year or more, Leaders Circle members ensure that researchers at MSK have sustained tools to accelerate scientific discovery and break new ground in the fight against rare cancers.

A special thank you to co-chairs Jason Harinstein and Alissa Faris for your leadership and ongoing support.

“Cycle for Survival has helped make powerful changes in extending and saving the lives of so many through its funding of research and treatments. As a nurse at MSK, it has been an honor to have many co-workers, family, and friends participate in Cycle for Survival with me on our team.”
